

Leaders P8 Summit

Imagine having some of the very best high performance, leadership and talent management minds in one room with no media for two days speaking openly about the challenges of winning the NFL Super Bowl, NBA Titles, MLB World Series, Tour de France, European Champions League, World Cups in Football, Rugby and Cricket? ... then welcome to the Leaders P8 Summit. The first of its kind forum has rapidly become the world's leading platform for the global's best sports leadership talent to share ideas, strategies, successes and failures with peers from other leading sports. It's the foremost education and training platform for staying not world class but world changing!

Mike was the founder of the 'Leaders P8 Summit' – a first in its kind 'brain trust' - that brings together the leading coaching and management talent from the elite world of sport. Meeting in London and New York twice per year, it is a private, invite only exclusive two-day event in round table format. Alumni include Arsene Wenger, Roy Hodgson, Stuart Lancaster, Sir Dave Brailsford and Carlo Ancelotti from European sport along with Billy Beane ('Moneyball'), RC Buford (President of San Antonio Spurs NBA 2014 Champions); three time World Series baseball GM Brian Cashman and Red Bull Space 'Strato' project leader Andy Walshe.
